

SEMINAR ORGANISED BY THE SUPREME COURT OF SPAIN IN COOPERATION WITH ACA-EUROPE

Madrid, 21 November 2022

Questionnaire
Application of general principles and clauses in the case law of contentious-administrative courts

In order to deepen the open dialogue between the high administrative jurisdictions of Europe, this seminar will analyse the application, within the administrative legal system, of different general principles or clauses of law.

Given the variety and large number of existing general principles, an effort has first been made to delimit and select, on the basis of their topicality or potential expansion, a series of general principles which, although underlying most legal systems, nevertheless present differences in the various legal systems in terms of their nature, their recognition in legal norms and, in short, with regard to their functionality, with divergences evidenced in particular by their judicial application.

The seminar offers an eminently practical vision. For this reason, the questionnaire primarily takes judicial experience into consideration, suggesting the following perspectives as lines of analysis:

- (i) General principles of law in the system of sources;
- (ii) Common incorporation of general principles of law: European Union and horizontal dialogue;
- (iii) General principles and fundamental rights;
- (iv) General principles in certain sector-specific areas of public law, selecting, in this regard, some of these principles to determine their application and projection in fields such as administrative organisation and procedure / administrative sanctions / public subsidies or grants / contracting by public bodies / town planning and environment / taxation.

In short, the aim of the seminar is to find out whether there are convergences in the guidelines of the high jurisdictions of the Member States, by determining the degree of influence of European Union law (e.g. through Directive 2006/123/EC on services in the internal market, or through incorporation of the principle of good administration, recognised in Article 41 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights) in its application, without losing sight of the effects of the horizontal dialogue between the high national jurisdictions, which we hope the seminar can continue to stimulate.

Co-funded by

I. – GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF LAW IN THE SYSTEM OF SOURCES

1º) What place and function do general principles of law have in the system of sources of your country's legal system?

- They are applied where there are gaps in the law
- They may be applied directly, even to the extent of displacing the initially applicable written law and prevailing over it.

Explain your answer briefly:

2º) Can it be said that the most relevant general principles of law in your culture and legal tradition have been positivised, i.e. enshrined with legal status in your country's judicial system?

- Yes
- Yes, the most relevant ones (please indicate briefly the most notable of these)
- No

3º) In the judicial practice of Public Law, are general principles of law frequently invoked and applied as a basis for decisions?

- They are frequently invoked and applied, and are also relevant and decisive in the settlement of disputes.
- They are frequently invoked and applied, although generally in a complementary manner, to reinforce challenging arguments based primarily on the interpretation and application of written rules.
- They are not frequently invoked and applied as a basis for decisions.

Explain your answer briefly:

4º) If you have answered yes to the previous question, can it be said that the invocation and application of general principles of law is done in a general and transverse way, in all areas or matters of Public Law?

- Yes

Co-funded by
the European Union

- Especially or particularly in certain matters, or in certain sector-specific areas (in this case, explain your answer briefly)

5º) In your country's legal system, are there general principles specific to Administrative Law, independent of other general principles of law?

- There are no general principles specific to Administrative Law
- There are principles specific to Administrative Law that may be applied in conjunction with other general principles
- There are principles specific to Administrative Law that exclude and displace the application of the other general principles

Explain your answer briefly:

II. – COMMON INCORPORATION OF GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF LAW: EUROPEAN UNION AND HORIZONTAL DIALOGUE

6º) Has your country's administrative legal system patently incorporated the general principles of European Union law?

- Yes, in general
- No special or specific incorporation has been necessary, because in general these principles were already recognised and enshrined in the country's legislation and practice.

Explain your answer briefly (this question mainly concerns the work of the legislator, i.e. the “legislative system”).

7º) Is it common in your country's judicial practice for the specific general principles of European Union law to be invoked and taken into account in areas where there is no regulatory harmonisation?

- Yes, for certain matters
- No, not generally

Explain your answer briefly (this question mainly concerns the work of the judiciary, i.e. “judicial practice”).

Co-funded by
the European Union

8º) When applying the general principles set out in European Union law, and when it is found that the general European principle applicable to the dispute in question conflicts in some way with national law, has the dispute been resolved through a solution involving the displacement and non-application of the national rule in order to give way to the general European principle?

- Yes
- This solution has been chosen in some cases, while in others different solutions or answers have been used (in this case, explain your answer briefly)

9º) Is it common in judicial practice for the principle of legitimate expectation to be invoked and taken into account?

- Yes, as a transversal principle
- Yes, but only in certain sector-specific matters and areas harmonised by Union law (please indicate what these are)
- No

Explain your answer briefly.

10º) Can taking the principle of legitimate expectation into account even result in the annulment of administrative decisions that are contrary to or violate those principles?

- Yes
- No, these principles are applied only in order to provide for compensation or reparation when they are violated in some way by the decisions of the Administration.

Explain your answer briefly.

11º) Has the “principle of good administration” referred to in Article 41 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union been adopted and applied in your country’s judicial practice?

- Yes, as a transversal principle
- Yes, but only in certain sector-specific matters and areas harmonised by Union law (please indicate what these are)
- Not commonly applied

Explain your answer briefly.

Co-funded by
the European Union

12º) Can taking the principle of good administration into account even result in the annulment of administrative decisions that are contrary to or violate that principle?

- Yes, in some specific cases.
- This would never be possible because, among other reasons, this principle applies solely as a guideline for conduct within the Administration and cannot be invoked by the citizen.
- No

Explain your answer briefly.

13º) Is it common in judicial practice for the principle of necessity and proportionality of administrative measures that limit or restrict access to or the exercise of an economic activity to be invoked and taken into account?

- Yes, this is a positivised principle whose non-observance results in the nullity of the measure or provision of a general nature.
- Yes, in certain matters and to different extents
- No

Explain your answer briefly.

14º) With regard to any of the above principles (legitimate expectation, necessity, proportionality or good administration) or other principles, has your country's Supreme Court taken into consideration the interpretation and manner of application of these principles by other European national high jurisdictions?

- Yes, on some occasions (in this case, explain your answer briefly)
- Never

III. – GENERAL PRINCIPLES AND FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS

15º) According to Article 6, paragraph 3 of the Treaty on European Union, fundamental rights that result from the constitutional traditions common to the Member States shall constitute general principles of the Union's law. Has your country's Supreme Court identified any of these common constitutional traditions?

- Yes, especially on the basis of the case law of the Court of Justice or the European Court of Human Rights

Co-funded by
the European Union

- Yes, especially on the basis of the case law of the Supreme Courts of other Member States.
- No such identification has taken place.

16^o) What status and importance does the principle of non-discrimination and gender equality have in your country's judicial practice?

- It is a principle commonly and generally taken into consideration, across all areas
- It is a principle that is taken into consideration and applied in certain legal relations and sector-specific areas

Explain your answer briefly.

17^o) In the judicial practice of your country, is the principle of protection of particularly vulnerable groups (e.g. minors, women, people with disabilities) invoked and applied?

- Yes, in a general, open and transversal manner
- Yes, for certain groups that are predetermined and identified in the different sector-specific rules (give a significant example)
- No

Explain your answer briefly.

18^o) Do the judicial bodies demand enhanced reasoning in cases where the contested administrative measure or decision (e.g. eviction from housing, granting of nationality) affects these vulnerable groups (e.g. minors, women, people with disabilities) or has an impact on other constitutional values such as protection of the family?

- No special grounds are required in these cases
- Yes, and their absence results in the nullity of the decision

Explain your answer briefly.

19^o) In your judicial practice, have disputes been raised regarding the issue of the principles of transparency, equality and non-discrimination in relation to decisions based on artificial intelligence or predictive data management systems?

- Yes
- These principles are not frequently invoked, but some examples exist
- No

Explain your answer briefly.
